CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS!
AMERICA'S FINEST CIGARETTE

The Football season of 1942 opens under the deep darkness of great war clouds. Physical fitness as well as mental alertness and moral courage must be built up as rapidly as possible in all of our citizenry. Competitive intercollegiate sport, and especially intercollegiate football, has been recognized as a school in which the young men of our nation can be trained to these fine qualities of vigorous manhood.

The Titans of 1942 will, we feel confident, give their best endeavors toward the attainment of these ends. We measure our personal estimate of them by the merits achieved by them in the past. I know that the faculty and students of the University, as well as our alumni and friends, join me in extending to the members of the football squad of 1942 our very best wishes for a successful season.

C. H. CLOUD, S. J.
President

From left to right, Edmund J. Barbour, freshman coach, Michael H. "Dad" Butler, trainer, Lloyd D. Brazil, backfield coach, and Arthur B. "Bud" Boeringer, line coach.

Of the four men on the Titan board of strategy, Barbour has skyrocketed into the limelight since the revocation of the freshman eligibility rule and the possibility that loss to the services may force the Titans to depend on freshman recruits for replacements. Now, Barbour's job is to get men ready for, perhaps, immediate action. It is up to Dad Butler to keep the boys fit for action. And, Brazil and Boeringer must mold the men into a smooth playing unit. These are the men behind the scenes. You'll see them exemplified when the Titans move into action.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GIVE TIRED GRASS
 A FRESH START

Re-vitalize "summer weary" grass with a fall application of Milorganite. Unlike most plants, grass grows vigorously in the fall . . . provided dwindling soil fertility is restored by generous feeding. Milorganite is the ideal fertilizer to use because it contains all the elements needed by grass. Golf clubs and football fields use more Milorganite than any other fertilizer. They know from long experience that it is the ideal fertilizer. Profit by their example. Fertilize with Milorganite this fall for greener, more luxuriant lawns now and NEXT year, too.

Supplied in 25-, 50-, and 100-pound sift-proof bags.

Arthur B. "Bud" Boeringer, University of Detroit line coach, whom the Titans honor today, has done more with less than any other man in the coaching business over the stretch of 15 years. Today the products of Bud's careful work will be put to the test by Arkansas U.

Bud has taken scores of men who might not even have rated a football suit at some of the bigger colleges and made them into linemen who could hold their own with the best.

Working entirely alone as mentor of the forwards, Boeringer has surmounted all kinds of handicaps. His men usually are small as linemen go, and he seldom has coralled big "name" athletes from high or preparatory schools.

However, Bud doesn't appraise his pupils according to size or weight. If a guy has an adequate physique, plenty of spirit and average football brains, that's all the line coach asks.

Detroit teams generally are outweighed by their opponents, sometimes by as much as 20 pounds per man. But there is no record of Bud's lines ever being pushed around, no matter how big the opponent.

The scores of games played since Boeringer reported at the University of Detroit in the fall of 1927, are ample proof that his linemen have known their jobs. In 146 games, opponents have scored more than two touchdowns only six times. On five of these occasions they made three touchdowns and one one they made six. The latter was in the 1931 game with Fordham, when a Titan team that started out like a winner collapsed under a terrible physical beating and finally lost 39 to 9, with most of the key men laid out. This was the only real whaling in the 15 years that "Bud" has been on the job.

In these 146 games, Boeringer's linemen have been so effective that the opponents have failed to score 69 times, or in nearly half the battles. They have made only one touchdown 37 times, a total of 106 times in 146 battles in which the total for the enemy was seven points or less. That's a record that will bear comparison with anything in the football book.

The names of Titan linemen who were top-notchers by the time they graduated, despite the little they had to start with, would fill almost a column of type. The greatest of them all was Vincent Banonis, center in 1939, 40, and 41, who was named pivot man on Grantland Rice's All-American team last fall. Banonis, unlike some of the stars developed by Boeringer, was a great prospect when he entered college and Boeringer did not have to start at the beginning with him. But "Bud" put the finishing touches on him and is credited by Vincent with having had a very large part in his success. In fact, Vincent admits that he owes everything to his mentor.

Boeringer-coached teams are noted for their intelligence. What they lack in physique they make up in knowledge of the game and in fighting spirit. "Bud" has a fighting spirit of his own that is contagious. Yet for all this aggressiveness, "Bud's" pupils play clean football. Time after time adversaries have come off the field, winning or losing, remarking that they never encountered better sportsmanship. Boeringer has no time for dirty football for two reasons: it isn't played by guys who have the intestinal fortitude to play fairly, and it doesn't pay, for the slight advantage it might give would be offset by the costly penalties that result from regular use.

Like all successful coaches, Boeringer wins both the affection and respect of his pupils. They go on the field with the urge to win for "Bud." Of course, this genius of line play has had many offers to go elsewhere as head coach, but he can't be lured away from Charles E. "Gus" Dorais, head coach. They form such a perfect team, that, together, with Lloyd Brazil, backfield coach, they toss off apparent miracles with ease. Twice as many coaches at some colleges can't begin to get the same results.

DETROIT VICTORY MARCH

Words and Music by Francis C. McIlhargey and Richard P. Sheridan

On down the field they go marching,
Gallant sons of Detroit all hail,
We'll sing our song as they're fighting,
To hold our colors high,
Men of Detroit we are with you,
As thousands cheer you on,
Play the game for old Detroit,
Vic-tory, and fame!

Chorus:

D - E - T - - - R - O - I - T,
March on to victory,
Hit that line, run that ball,
For old Detroit (Rah! Rah! Rah!)
Fight team fight!
With all your might,
As Titan men of yore,
Charge down that field, team,
On to victory!

VARSITY

Words and Music by Arthur T. Granfield

I

Hurrah! for the Varsity!
All hail to U. of D.!
Hurrah! for her colors bright!
All hail to Red and White!
We count her victories ever new,
We love her spirit, too;
We'll boost her along, with a laugh and a song:—
With hearts that are loyal and true.
Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

Chorus:

Varsity, old Varsity,
Our thoughts are all for you.
We're ever loyal Varsity;
We love your colors true. (Rah! Rah!)
Home of our hearts, We sing to thee,
And the times that used to be;
When hearts were light, and hopes were bright,
In those good old days at "U. of D."

II

Thy emblem we proudly bear,
Thy glorious shield we wear.
We gladly turn to you,
For all that's good and true.
Thy noble hist'ry is shining bright,
Of deeds of valor we're proud,
We'll boost for the right, for the Red and the White;
Remember the good old crowd.
Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!

OUR ALMA MATER

Official U. of D. Anthem

Words and Music by H. O'Reilly Clint

Dear U. of D. our Alma Mater,
Ever shall you be,
The inspiration of our hopes,
Oh grateful hearts are we.
Though time goes on,
Sweet memories linger,
Filled with loyalty.
What years may bring,
Let voices sing,
Our Alma Mater U. of D.

DEAR OLD U. OF D.

For old U. of D., dear old U. of D.
March along to victory.
Can't you hear your thousands cheering
As the goal our men are nearing,
For old U. of D., dear old U. of D.,
True to you we'll ever be,
So Fight, Fight, FIGHT!
For the glorious Red and White,
Dear old U. of D.

MARCH OF THE TITANS

(University of Detroit)

By Victor Kolar

I

Thy sons, Detroit, come every man,
In brotherhood that first began,
On campus and in lecture hall,
They rally to the Titan call.

Chorus:

Titans on! the Red and White
And all they stand for now unite
To urge each ounce of do and dare
To play the game and play it fair.

II

Brave spirits from the vanished years,
Who played the game to other cheers,
Are gathered here from far and wide
To muster on the Titan side.

YOU'RE A PART OF MY HEART (OLD U. OF D.)

Words and Music by H. O'Reilly Clint

Though the world I roam,
Far away from home
And the pals I knew in student days,
Years cannot sever what we learned together,
The thought of it stays
In my heart always.

Chorus:

You're a part of my heart old U. of D.,
You've been an Alma Mater to me
Your wonderful ways
Made my happiest days,
Just the kind college days ought to be
And the thought that I've got old U. of D.
Will tell of times we made history
And the Rah! Rah! Rah! for victory
You're my Alma Mater, U. of D.

... Songs and Cheers

BELOVED U. OF D.

Music by Phil Wolff

To you, our Alma Mater
Beloved U. of D.,
We pledge our hearts' devotion
With love and loyalty.
When storms of life surround us
And bitter grows the fight,
The thought of you, so good, so true
Will guide our path aright.

HAIL (ALMA MATER) U. OF D.

Words and Music by Louis C. Rabaut

To our Alma Mater,
Raise your voice in song,
Sing that she may prosper,
And her years be long.
We her sons assembled
Chant most fervently
Glorious reign—supreme remain
Guiding you and me.

Chorus:

Hail Alma Mater U. of D.,
Loyal sons sing to thee;
Hail dear comrades to you,
Cherished mem'ries too,
Noble ideals we review;
Fostering courage anew
As the bygone days we trail
U. of D., hail, hail.

U. of D. HOMECOMING

Homecoming next Saturday!

And that day will have plenty of significance as the University dedicates the festivity, not only to the Dads, but to the second U. of D. squadron of Naval Air cadets, the "Titan Avengers," as a symbol of all her sons in the service.

The program for Homecoming, which is built around the U. of D.-Oklahoma A. & M. football game, opens Friday night for the student body and alumni with a bonfire and parade.

The program continues Saturday morning when the doors of the University will be open to allow parents of students to view the buildings, and become acquainted with the University proper. Following the Oklahoma-U. of D. football game, the annual Homecoming dance will be held Saturday night in the Grand Ballroom of the Book-Cadillac Hotel.

About Homecoming, William Rabe, editor of The Varsity News, student publication, has this to say:

"Homecoming activities this year will no doubt be long-remembered by University of Detroit students. They may be the last in which many of them will participate.

"This, however, should not stand as the sole reason for active participation on the part of every member of the student body and alumni.

"Homecoming should be a real tradition . . . not just slightly worn tradition that is taken out of the attic trunk once a year for a few hours during a football game.

Homecoming should be the tradition that brings forth responses of, 'Oh, you mean Homecoming day, back in '42,' when one old alumnus says to another old alumnus, 'Remember that time when . . .?'

"Such traditions aren't nurtured by press-agents and a few active committee-members. They grow from the active participation of the men of U. of D. in each separate event that makes up whole celebration that is Homecoming.

"Freshmen will gather fuel for the fire . . . Union officers will provide entertainment . . . fraternities and sororities will build floats . . . the rest of the student body and alumni will help. Everyone will attend.

"That's how traditions, real traditions, are firmly entrenched in the green sod and under the hallowed roofs of a university."

Yes, that's what we expect to happen next week.

The football game that will highlight Homecoming Saturday afternoon, brings to Detroit the Oklahoma Aggies, for the last home football game of the current season.

Like all teams that have come out of the Southeast, the Aggies are big and rangy. There are five 200-pounders on the squad. All save two of the linemen stand over 6 feet high. Arms, a 210-pound tackle, holds the national intercollegiate heavyweight wrestling title, plus Scanlan, who caused quite a bit of trouble for Detroit last year, are only some of the attractions of the day.

The game will be the last home appearance for a large number of Titans. Co-capt. Don Hughes, Bob Harrington, Bob Burke, Tom Frielink, Ed Kukorowski, Art Link, Henry Piper, George Ghesquiere, and Jack Pearl, are playing their last year of collegiate football.

So, that's the setup for Homecoming. The University welcomes students, alumni and friends to see this last home game and participate in the day's festivities.

RAZOR BITS

Little David Scarborough, whose educated toe negotiated the brilliant field goal in the final seven seconds of play to give Arkansas a 9-6 victory over Detroit last fall, is back on duty with the same toe this afternoon.

Little David is no longer operating in the Razorback backfield and may not see much actual play from his guard slot at Detroit. He suffered a broken finger at Dallas last week, but will still be available as a kicker for extra points, or perhaps a field goal, if needed.

Several others return to Detroit in an effort to make it two in a row over Coach Gus Dorais' boys. Gone are the great tackles, Jeff Coats and Nig Bynum; the star centers, Pete Cato and Ken Hayden; the angular ends, O'Neal Adams and R. C. Pitts; and the stalwart guards, Jack Clark, Bo Sisson and Johnny Sutton, as well as Backs Hubert Barker, Bratton Haynes, Louis Ramsey, Pug Neal and Leslie Ross.

But, Ends Joe Tibbitts and Red Johnson, Tackles Clayton Wynne, Bob Green and Jay Lawhon, Guards Paul Paladino and Gene Golden and Backs Co-Captain Chick Forte, David Paul Jones, Meredith Jones, Babe Cialone, Frank Delmonego and little Max Sallings return for more duty.

Lawhon is rated today as one of the greatest tackles in Southwest conference history—which covers a lot of ground. He is big, rugged and fast as a back. For three straight weeks he has been playing in rival backfields—Texas Aggies, Rice and Southern Methodist. A week after the current season ends the big Mule will be in the Naval Reserve on active duty.

From the Arkansas publicity director, comes this last minute analysis of the Razorback successes or lack of successes, this season:

"Last Saturday the much-battered Razorbacks showed great signs of coming to life in a bitter battle against the aerial-minded Southern Methodist Mustangs at Dallas. In the fleeting moments of the first half Arkansas shook loose its powerful tailback and co-captain, 202-pound Robert (Chick) Forte for a 70-yard gain. Time ran out before the injured Forte could collect his breath and finish the job.

"In the second half the Razorbacks cut loose with some of the air wizardry which once stamped them as the 'passingest team in the nation' to start a drive which bit deeply in Mustang territory. The Methodists stopped that drive, but a moment later End Virgil (Red) Johnson snagged a Mustang pass and galloped 30 yards for the touchdown.

"The Mustangs came back to push over two touchdowns, one on a 55-yard gallop and the other an 18-yard pass, to win by 14-6. However, the Razorbacks launched a new drive near the end and the clock caught them on the 15-yard stripe. This was a great source of satisfaction to Coach George Cole who had seen his club 'fold' several times earlier in the season.

"I think we're ready to go places now, even if it is late in the year,' the diminutive mentor de-

TITAN NOTES

By E. A. BATCHELOR

Although teams from the Southwestern section have a deserved reputation as ranking among the best in the land, University of Detroit never has had much trouble with them. During the dynasty of Charles E. "Gus" Dorais as head coach, the Titans have played a total of 13 games with five different teams from the Southwest and have won 10 of these. One of the three games that the Titans dropped was decided by three points—a last second field goal by Arkansas last year—and another by a single touchdown. The only real whaling the Red and White ever took was 19 to 6 at the hands of Oklahoma A. & M. in 1934. Incidentally this beating was in the middle of a three-game losing streak, the longest string of reverses that the Titans ever have sustained under Dorais.

Detroit's two final home games this season are with Arkansas and Oklahoma A. & M. and while neither of these teams has had much luck in the tough competition that it has encountered in its own section, the dopesters shouldn't jump to the conclusion that they are soft touches. Down in that Southwestern country the game of football like the "spaces" is wide open. They fling the ball around regardless of the score, the position on the field, the time remaining to play or anything else. When a team happens to be "hot" it may run up a score of 30 or 40 points as easily as an outfit with a more orthodox offense would score a single touchdown. You can't assume that the beaten team had a fundamentally weak defense, either. It may simply have been up against a great offense.

The Titans have had only one encounter with Arkansas, their opponent of Saturday, November 21, and that is a sad memory. The Red and White stopped the vaunted Razorback passing attack and the score was tied 6 to 6 with only two seconds to go when the invaders kicked a field goal. They never would have had this chance except for a Titan pass that went wrong when Dorais' men were making a desperate effort to break the tie. Detroit could have settled for a drawn conflict, but gambled to win.

Against Oklahoma A. & M., the Titans have been very successful, winning three of the four games played. The Aggies took the 1934 game 19 to 6, but lost in 1935, 13 to 0, in 1936, 46 to 12, and in 1941, 20 to 14.

In its other scuffles with Southwestern teams Detroit has come out on top by a wide margin. It has beaten Tulsa six of seven games played, Texas Tech two of two and Texas Christian one of one.

Maybe one reason for this good record is that the Titans, being themselves a forward-passing team, have developed an unusually successful defense against this style of play.

clared. 'I don't know what Detroit has—we have a non-scouting agreement with Dorais—but I do think our club is at its best form of the year and we certainly are in the best physical condition since early September.'"

has gone to War

for Victory

Great Lakes Steel is proud of the part N-A-X Series 9100 is playing in our Victory program. For this versatile steel is doing double duty for war. First, it is being used to build the finest fighting equipment in the world. And second, it is conserving critical alloying elements, for in N-A-X 9100 Series, all strategic elements are
